Office Action Summary

Art Unit: 1754

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action. The request filed on 12/13/02 for Continued examination (RCE) based on parent Application No. 09/923764 is acceptable and a RCE has been established. An action on the RCE follows.

Claims 64-66, 75-77 and 79 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

A) Claims 77 and 79 are duplicates of claims 65 and 75 respectively.

B) In claims 64 and 76, 'enhanced' is unclear in the basis for comparison- presumably versus untreated carbon. Furthermore, it is unclear if higher or lower constitutes enhancement. Perhaps the preamble should be changed to just read 'A process of making activated carbon comprising'.

77 and 79
Claims 64-66 and 75-~~79~~ are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as containing subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

There is no support for the two temperature ranges claimed, nor in the use of the term 'approximately'.

Claims 64-66 and 75-77 and 79 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Aibe et al. Aibe teaches in columns 5, 8 and 28 impregnating active carbon with a dilute aqueous solution of KI only. The impregnation is deemed uniform, since the material has the whole outside surface contacted with the solution. The reference does not explicitly teach drying at the claimed temperature, but discloses temperatures which overlap the claimed temperature. Note that to dry at 200 degrees, it is necessary to raise the temperature through the initial lower range then to the higher temperature. Thus, the claims read upon ramping up the heat.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to dry at a high temperature in the process of Aibe because doing so provides an useful sorbent material.

Applicant's arguments filed 12/13/02 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

The amendments change objectionable terms to terms which are synonyms and thus also objectionable. There is no support for two ranges in example 5- there is support for one heating to exactly 130 degrees. Ex. 7 shows exactly 80 and exactly 130. This does not support the ranges claimed. Aibe teaches drying at a wide range of temperatures; no criticality is seen in the particular temperatures claimed.
